

Stadium Casino War – Rules of Play

Stadium Casino War is a variation of the well-known table game. Each player can bet up to 7 hands per round, and the results of the game are determined by a live dealer utilizing standard War rules to reconcile player decisions. The game is dealt from the podium via a 6 or 8 deck shoe.

Rules of Play:

1. The Dealer will begin the betting round by pressing "New Game" on the Dealer Terminal (DT) touchscreen.
2. Each player places a wager on up to 7 betting locations on their touch screen, corresponding to one of 7 hands that will be dealt for this round.
3. A Tie bet is available for each of the 7 betting locations.
4. When the countdown timer expires, the dealer will deal one card to each of the 7 locations on the podium felt, and one card for themselves. The highest card wins.
5. Players must make a decision on all active hands before the countdown timer expires. If no selection is made on a hand it will default to Surrendered.
6. In the event that there is a tie, the player terminals will ask the players to either "Surrender" or "Go to War" for each hand that ties.
7. If the player chooses to "Go to War", the system will place an additional wager equal to the initial wager from the player's credit pool/meter, which the dealer matches automatically.
8. War is resolved via 'war community cards.' The dealer will deal 3 cards face down and then one more face-up for the player, and then three cards face down and one face up for the dealer.
9. The dealer will then press "Confirm" to end the round and reconcile all wagers.
