

World Poker Tour Heads Up Hold'em

World Poker Tour (WPT) Heads Up Hold'em is a Texas Hold'em variation played using a standard deck of 52 cards. To begin, players must make the mandatory Ante and Odds wagers, to receive two cards which are combined with five community cards. Players form their best five card poker hand against the dealer's five card poker hand. Additionally, players may place any optional side wagers made available.

WPT Heads Up Hold'em Progressive is an optional progressive side bet. Players are paid against a payable if they are able to create a qualifying hand that uses the player's two hole cards combined with the five-card community board.
