

INTRODUCTION:

Xtreme Hold'em is a table game played with a standard 52-card deck. Each player is then dealt two cards face-down. The dealer also receives two cards face-down, and 5 Community cards.

Rules of Play:

The player begins by making an Ante wager and X-tra Bonus wager, in equal amounts. During gameplay, the player is required at some point to either make a Play wager, at 4x to 1x the value of the Ante wager, depending on at what point in the game the Play wager is made or to fold. If the player chooses to fold rather than commit a Play wager, then the Ante wager and X-tra bonus wager are forfeited. This is covered in the rules below. The player may place a Bonus Spin Xtreme side wager or a STAX side wager, if one of these is offered. In addition, there is also a Player Bonus wager and/or Hold Card Bonus wager that may be offered.

Note – The property can choose whether or not to offer Hole Card Bonus wager and/or Player Bonus Wager. Additionally, this game may be used in conjunction with the Bonus Spin Xtreme or the STAX bonusing system, in which case the property can offer the Bonus Spin Xtreme side wager or STAX side wager (respectively) as an optional wager or as a mandatory wager.*

Each player is dealt two cards face-down. The dealer also receives two cards face-down. Five Community cards are dealt and remain face-down. When using a packet forming shuffler, the community cards will be dealt first.

After examining their cards, the player may place a Play wager equal to three or four times the Ante (3x – 4x), or else check.

Three of the community cards are then revealed. If the player has not placed a Play wager, then they may now place a Play wager equal to twice the Ante (2x), or else check. If the player has already placed a Play wager, no further action is required or allowed.

The last two community cards are revealed. If the player still has not placed a Play wager, then they must now either place a Play wager equal to the Ante (1x), or else fold and forfeit their Ante and X-tra Bonus wagers.

Note, the Player Bonus, Hole Card Bonus, STAX and Bonus Spin Xtreme wager(s) remains active, regardless of whether the player plays or folds their main wagers.

All cards are then revealed, and all wagers are resolved.

ANTE, X-TRA BONUS, AND PLAY WAGERS

The Ante, X-tra Bonus, and Play wagers are evaluated by comparing the player hand and dealer hand. Both player and dealer make the best 5-card Poker hand they can using any combination of their two individual cards and the five community cards. If the dealer has at least a Pair, the dealer is said to "open."

If the player beats the dealer, and the dealer has opened, the Ante wager wins and pays 1 to 1. If the dealer does not open, or if the player and dealer tie, the Ante wager pushes. If the player is beaten by the dealer and the dealer has opened, the Ante wager loses.

If the player beats the dealer, the Play wager wins and pays 1 to 1. If the player and dealer tie, the Play wager pushes. If the player is beaten by the dealer, the Play wager loses.

If the player beats the dealer, the X-tra Bonus wager wins or pushes and pays according to the player's hand, as given in X-tra Bonus Wager Pay Table. If the player and dealer tie, the X-tra Bonus wager pushes. If the player is beaten by the dealer, the wager loses.
