Rules of play

Example: Football edition

Turbo Football is a casino table game that is played with a standard deck of 52 cards, with 1, 2, or 4 footballs marked on each spade card. The number of footballs on each card is as follows:

- J, Q, K, A of spades = 4 footballs each
- 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 of spades = 2 footballs each
- 2, 3, 4, 5 of spades = 1 football each
- Any hearts, diamonds, or clubs = 0 footballs each

All cards are shuffled before each game either by using a continuous shuffling machine or by a thorough hand shuffle.

Each player receives a 9 card hand in which the total number of footballs in the 9 cards determines the win/lose outcome. Before any cards are dealt, the player must place the mandatory First Down bet and may optionally wager on the Long Pass, Field Goal, TD, and 9 Card Bonus bets.

After all wagers are placed, 3 community cards are dealt. If these 3 cards contain at most 5 footballs, then each player has the option to double their First Down bet. After players makes this decision, each player is dealt 6 cards to complete their 9 card hand.

Wagers are then paid according to the respective pay table as outlined below, where only the highest payout is awarded:

- First Down bet: At least 6 footballs in 9 cards pays 1 to 1 and at least 6 footballs in the 3 community cards pays 3 to 2. With 5 footballs or less, the bet is lost.
- Long Pass bet: At least 7 footballs in 9 cards pays 2 to 1 and at least 14 footballs in 9 cards (Super TD) pays 4 to 1. With 6 footballs or less, the bet is lost.
- Field Goal bet: At least 8 footballs in 9 cards pays 3 to 1 and at least 14 footballs in 9 cards (Super TD) pays 6 to 1. With 7 footballs or less, the bet is lost.
- TD bet: At least 9 footballs in 9 cards pays 5 to 1 and at least 14 footballs in 9 cards (Super TD) pays 10 to 1. With 8 footballs or less, the bet is lost.
- 9 Card Bonus bet: Wins based on the number of spade cards in the player's 9 card hand and pays odds against the posted payable.

A property has the option to not offer the 9 Card Bonus wager as part of the game.
